THE CRAFTY PIGEONS FOIL A DEATH PLOT

THE battle is over. The council has lost. And the wily pigeons have won. Hostilities started after people in Farnham, Surrey, complained that the pigeons were messing up the town.

Local council officials decided that the pigeons would have to die. And they planned an elaborate battle campaign.

First, the council scattered grain around the pigeons' favourite meeting places.

They were sure that they had lulled the pigeons into a false sense of security. And now the killing could begin.

Dope

Officials ordered more grain to be laid. But this time the grain contained lethal dope.

The plan was a resounding flop. Hardly any of the pigeons ate the killer food.

"This was most disappointing," a council spokesman said yesterday. "It looks as though the pigeons got wise to it. Only eleven of them ate the grain and died."

The spokesman added: "We are dropping the campaign because it has not been a success."

ADAM'S ROLLS BREAKS LAW

POLICE stopped pop singer Adam Faith as he drove along the A1 in his Rolls-Royce. And yesterday he was fined a total of £17 at Hatfield, Herts.

For Adam's excise licence was three months out of date and he had no Ministry of Transport test certificate for the five-year-old Rolls.

Adam, of The Mount, Esher, Surrey pleaded guilty.

In a letter to the court he wrote: "One does not drive a Rolls-Royce and deliberately commit this sort of offence."

HOLIDAY BRITON DIES

Mr. Alfons Forty, 71, of Gloucester, died after a fall while on holiday at Opatjia, Yugoslavia, it was announced yesterday.

Peki on her way to court yesterday.

I'm guilty, says model Peki in drugs case

STRIP dancer and model Peki O'Slo—real name Amanda Lear—pleaded guilty to a drugs charge yesterday.

She was accused at Marlborough-street Court, London, of having unauthorised possession of two tablets.

Miss Lear's counsel, Mr. Robin Grey, said that the two tablets were mostly aspirin and freely obtainable in France.

They had been given to Miss Lear by a girl friend in Paris when she returned there tired after a European tour.

Contracts

Originally, Miss Lear was arrested on a charge under the Dangerous Drugs Act. Later this charge was dropped. But Mr. Grey said that the publicity had lost her £500 worth of modelling contracts.

On yesterday's charge—under the Drugs (Prevention of Misuse) Act—Miss Lear, of Sloane-avenue, Chelsea, was conditionally discharged with £18 lbs. costs.

UNION IS OFFERED A FIRM

INDUSTRIALIST William Kirk and his directors agreed yesterday to offer control of their company to their workers' union.

Mr. Kirk, 53, is to offer the Amalgamated Engineering Union 51 per cent. of the shares in the company, Lawden Manufacturing (Birmingham), for £120,000.

He said yesterday: "We are not bluffing. We shall put the offer in writing."

Challenged

Last Tuesday, Mr. Kirk challenged the union to take over the running of the company's factory in Edgbaston, Wolverhampton, after workers held the first strike there in 20 years.

Last night, Sir William Carron, president of the AEU, said: "I am sure we wouldn't want to take up this shares offer."

"Mr. Kirk doesn't seem to know what unions are for. He might just as well ask to buy a share in the AEU."
